CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

SUMMER SCHOOL ON MIGRATION

DEVELOPMENT, CIVIC ENGAGEMENT
AND SOCIAL COHESION

AUGUST 17 – 22, 2015
ČESKÉ BUDĚJOVICE

The Summer School on Migration is an annual event designed for students (both graduate and undergraduate) as well as young professionals in migration field from the Czech Republic and from abroad with various professional and personal backgrounds.

Participants will have an opportunity to study and discuss different aspects of integration, diversity, development etc. This year, the main focus of the Summer School is searching for effective ways of cooperation within communities and in neighborhoods with a higher risk of conflict situations resulting from ethnic, religious or other differences.

The program is based on the multidisciplinary approach and offers a combination of theoretical lectures and examples of good practice presented by local and international academics, activists, representatives of NGOs, but also governmental and intergovernmental organizations (Ministry of Interior, IOM etc.).

Objectives

A specific purpose of the Summer School in 2015 is to get familiar with and to discuss different ways towards a better understanding and cooperation within multi-cultural/ethnic/religious communities in different contexts and to search for means of transfer of the best practices to the setting of individual participants.

The Summer School will be part of The European Year for Development and linkage between migration and development will be one of the main topics of the program. Participants will have a chance to get familiar not only with the international but also local context (through a planned visit of local NGOs and a field trip to Český Krumlov which used to be a model town in terms of integration of Roma community etc.) and they will be encouraged to discuss possibilities how to implement some of the examples of good practice in the setting of České Budějovice. Through this, participants will be able to think about their own neighborhoods and will be encouraged to start an initiative, project, cooperations themselves in troubled areas.

Application process

Please, apply through the official registration form available on the IOM website www.iom.cz. Applications will be evaluated on the ongoing basis and applicants will be notified of the selection result within ten working days after the submission of the application. The deadline for submission is June 30, 2015.

Participant fee

The participant fee is 100 EUR (or CZK 2750) and covers accommodation in students' dormitories (double rooms, 6 nights, Sunday – Saturday), breakfast and lunch (Monday – Friday), welcome dinner on Monday, coffee breaks refreshment, access to all the sessions and activities (except the voluntary field trip to Český Krumlov on Saturday, August 23rd) and materials and presentations from the lectures and workshops.

Please, be informed that the payment in cash at the venue is NOT possible. The advance payment is required in order to confirm the participation. You will get confirmation of your payment via email and you can get also receipt upon request at the Summer School. For detailed instructions please visit the IOM website www.iom.cz.

Participants from the Czech Republic who are not in need of the accommodation or have some other special queries, please contact organizers.

The Summer School on Migration is funded by the U.S. Embassy in Prague within the Small Grants Program, by the Czech Development Agency within the European Year of Development 2015 (EYD2015) and by the University of South Bohemia within the Institutional Development Program.
